SUMMARY

Since March 2025, I have been working as a Junior Perfion / Dynamicweb Developer at esyon GmbH in Leipzig. In this role, I develop and maintain product data integrations, build custom solutions in C# and .NET, and work extensively with SQL Server in enterprise environments. My backend focus is on C# and .NET, designing interfaces between systems such as Perfion, Dynamicweb and ERP platforms. I work with APIs, data transformations, product data structures and system integrations, translating business requirements into stable and scalable technical implementations.
